We Want Men

To think of this store as a quality store. A store where the Finest Men's Clothes are sold—where the price they pay gets 20 per cent more value than it could possibly get in any other store in this city. That's the kind of a store this is. No men's clothes are too good or too fine for us. We carry the best. The prices you pay govern wholly the fineness of woolsens and trimmings. Tailoring and style is perfect at any price. We've never shown so large and varied a stock as we are showing for Spring. We want men—dressy men to examine. That's why we're making this very special offer.

JUDGE GRAHAM RESIGNS.

Fred T. Moore Resigns as Cashier St. Clair County Savings Bank—Judge Graham Will Succeed Him.

On May 1st a change of interest to banking circles throughout the county and state will take place at the St. Clair County Savings bank. Fred T. Moore, who has been cashier of the bank for several years past, has resigned to become more actively engaged in the big timber business in Oregon, along with his brother, Geo. W. Moore, who took up his residence in the west several years ago. Stephen A. Graham, judge of probate of this county, who has been attorney and director of the bank for several years, has been elected cashier in place of Mr. Moore and will resign his official position and give his time and attention entirely to the work of the bank. The other officers of the bank remain unchanged.

The St. Clair County Savings bank was founded by the Moores and from a small institution has grown to be one of the strongest and most powerful in this section of the state. Under the management of the Moores the bank has prospered wonderfully and the footings now run into the millions. Some time ago the Moore brothers became interested in a large lumber tract in Oregon and George W. Moore, who had been cashier, left to take up his residence out there. Since then the Moores have erected a mammoth mill, have established offices in Oregon and San Francisco, and Fred T. Moore will now devote more of his time to the financial end of the business. George W. being now busy in the operating end, where they employ hundreds of men. Three years ago, it is stated, the Moores were offered half a million dollars for their Oregon proposition. Having made their first money in the lumber woods they decided to work it out themselves. Fred T. Moore was formerly mayor of Port Huron and George W. Moore has held several state positions of honor and trust.

Judge Stephen A. Graham, who takes Mr. Moore's place as cashier of the St. Clair County Savings bank, needs no introduction to the people of St. Clair county. He has just completed his tenth year as judge of probate and is well known for his excellent work in that office, not only here, but throughout the state. He is vice-president of the Probate Judges' association. During the time he has been judge of probate he has also been closely associated with the bank in the capacity of attorney, often taking Mr. Moore's place when the latter was called away on other business. In this manner he has become thoroughly acquainted with the details of the banking business and is especially well equipped to step into this position. His legal training serves him to good purpose. During all of his career as judge of probate he has had many intricate problems with which to deal and has only been reversed once, by the higher court, an almost unequalled record. Judge Graham is conservative and bears an enviable reputation and goes into his new position with the best wishes of his friends, who are legion.

"I regret severing my pleasant relation with the St. Clair County Savings bank, but our other interests west demand my time," said Fred T. Moore to a reporter. "George and I have built an immense property in Oregon and have finally reached the point where we must give more time to it. We are lumbermen first. That's how we started right in the woods of Michigan. We both like the lumber business. We have one of the finest capacity, we could not live long enough to cut off all the timber in the tract we control."

What Texans Admire is hearty, vigorous life, according to Hugh Tallman, of San Antonio. "We find," he writes, "that Dr. King's New Life Pills surely put new life and energy into a person. Wife and I believe they are the best made." Excellent for stomach, liver or kidney troubles. 25 cts at Pollock & Hennessy's.

Dr. Cornell.

Dr. Cornell, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, of Port Huron, will be at the Paisley Hotel, Yale, on Friday, June 7th, 1912.

Strayed from my premises on Wednesday, a black and tan, bob-tail dog. Any information as to his whereabouts will be thankfully received by Stephen Barr.

May 15th, Clean-Up Day.

The special attention of Yale's citizens is called to the fact that Wednesday, the 15th of May, has been designated as "Clean Up Day" throughout the state, and that everyone should make a special effort to have their yard cleaned up by that time. Those who have no means of drawing away their rubbish such as tin cans, etc., will kindly place the same in a heap on the side of the street shortly before that date, and the city street commissioner will attend to it.

A city inspector has been appointed whose duty it is to assist the health board in looking after the sanitary condition of the city, and will make his inspection immediately after May 15th, and all closets, barn yards and other nuisances detrimental to the public health must be taken care of before that date.

J. B. STEVENS, Mayor.

Colonial Ladies' Quartette.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society of Sacred Heart church have been fortunate in securing the services of the well known Colonial Ladies' Quartette of Detroit, who will appear in Central Hall, Yale, Tuesday evening, May 14, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Emery of the McDonald School of Music assisted by Miss Agnes Louise Mitchell, reader.

These ladies come well recommended and the people of Yale and vicinity should not miss this splendid opportunity of hearing something pleasing in the way of singing and dramatic art. Miss Mittenell being exceptionally good as a dramatic reader.

Admission 25 cts; reserve seats 10 cts extra. On sale at Pollock & Hennessy's drug store Monday evening.

Will Change Their Residence.

The following news item taken from the Owosso Evening Argus of April 29, will be of interest to Yale friends:

"Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Griswold returned Saturday afternoon from Lansing where they have purchased a residence known as the Coleman property at 717 Allegan street. They have sold their residence at 224 Park street, in this city, and expect to move to Lansing in a few days. The girls and boys of the elementary department of the First M. E. Sunday school of which Mrs. Griswold is superintendent, presented her with a solid silver spoon. Many warm friends that Mr. and Mrs. Griswold have made here during their comparatively brief stay in Owosso, will regret their departure."

Melvin Pioneer Merchant.

Charles Dewey, pioneer merchant of Melvin, will celebrate his 40th anniversary of starting in business in that bustling little village on the north and west of us May 10th. On that day he will give a discount of 10 per cent on all merchandise, with the exception of sugar, as a token of appreciation for the liberal patronage accorded him during all these years. Mr. Dewey has not as yet become a millionaire from the profits of the business, neither has he been unfortunate enough to suffer loss from fire or failure. Mr. Dewey is a most pleasant gentleman to deal with and his friends, whom are legion, will join with the Expressor in wishing him many more years of successful business and social life.

Comrades, Attention!

There will be a meeting of W. H. Dunphy Post, 424, G. A. R., on Saturday, May 11, for the purpose of making arrangements for Decoration Day. The members are all requested to be present. Meeting to be held at my residence on First street.

Charles Montney, Commander.
